

TOP OF THE PLOPS - WHOSE POO?

All of these POOS were done by wild UK Mammals
WHO has done each POO? Draw a line between them

HEDGEHOG

BAT

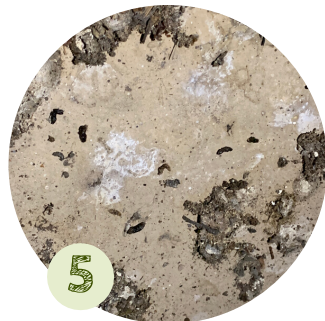

OTTER

BADGER

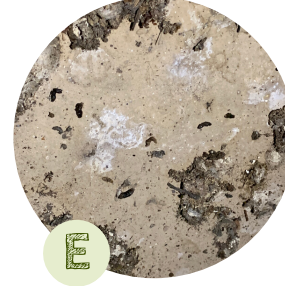

FOX

RECORD

TOP OF THE PLOPS - RATE THE POOS

LABEL THE POOS, which do you think is....

The smelliest

The shiniest

The smallest

The biggest

The freshest

The sloppiest

The sneakiest (not actually a poo)

The most crumbley

RECORD

TOP OF THE PLOPS - ANSWERS

PAGE 1

- 1) Fox
- 2) Hedgehog
- 3) Badger
- 4) Otter
- 5) Bat

PAGE 2

- | | |
|-------------|-----------------|
| A) Fox | E) Bat |
| B) Hedgehog | F) Owl Pellets |
| C) Badger | G) Badger again |
| D) Otter | |

The smallest: E - bat poos are tiny, measuring only 1cm or so long!

The crumbliest: E - bat poos crumble if you squish them, this is one way to tell them apart from mouse poos

The freshest: Hard to tell, but possibly A

The shiniest: B - hedgehog poos often contain insect remains including the iridescent wing cases of beetles - beautiful!

The sneakiest: F - owl pellets come out the owl's mouth. Its regurgitated food rather than poo.

The biggest: Hard to tell but possibly C or G - badger and fox poo are often a similar size but badger poos are more often found together in piles (latrines)

The sloppiest: Hard to tell, but possibly G or C. Badgers eat all sorts including worms and berries, which you can often tell from their poo

The smelliest: This depends on your own opinion! Fox + badger poo are both very pungent and otter poo smells fishy

#My
Patch

RECORD